291 — Butter Headline

Panel 1: In the living room of the house, Theo (white tiger), Lightfoot (red fox), and Ophelia (skunk) are sitting and reading. Lightfoot, behind his newspaper, observes, “Interesting article. I didn’t know that New Jersey had a dairy industry.”

Panel 2: Ophelia and Theo look up from their books, as Theo asks, “The Godfather raises cattle?” “Maybe,” Lightfoot replies. “Says here that milk, yogurt, and cheese sales are about the same, but the butter market is thriving.”

Panel 3: Lightfoot lowers his paper and sees that the tiger is sporting a dangerously large grin. “What have I done...?” the fox asks. The skunk adds, “This cannot end well...”

Panel 4: Theo drops his book into his lap, punches the air with both fists, crying out, “Banner headline! Jersey experiences budda boom!” As Ophelia face-palms, Lightfoot rolls up his newspaper to use against Theo, saying, “Gonna make this kitty an offer he can’t refuse...”

I know “Joisey” is famous for a lot of other things, but I couldn’t resist the pun. I’m sure there are other offers they’re gonna make me when they catch up with me; I just hope that they won’t mind if I milk this cheesy joke before the meat-up...
