014 — The Stork Brought Me

Panel 1: Sheila is seated at her desk in her bedroom; she's looking back over her shoulder as she hears Ophelia calling to her from the open bedroom door. The lady skunk asks, "Hey, Shee, what're you up to?" The kangaroo replies, "Just going through an old book of photos of stuff from when I was just a joey."

Panel 2: Ophelia has joined Sheila at her desk, and she says, "Come on now; you were born just as human as the rest of us. We had to come here to find our furry selves." The 'roo wonders, "Maybe it was foreshadowing; my mum says the stork brought me." The skunk chuckles, "A lot of parents tell their kids that."

Panel 3: We see a close-up of one corner of an Australian birth certificate. Sheila says, "Yeah, but in my case, it's true." She is pointing to the doctor's name: Thomas Howard Edward Stork, OB/GYN.

Panel 4: Ophelia is grinning as she notes, "T. H. E. Stork." Sheila also smiles. "Nice to know Mum and Dad always leveled with me."
