050 — Culture du Cheval

Panel 1: In the living room of the house, Lightfoot (red fox) and Sheila (kangaroo) are seated on the couch, chatting. Sheila asks, “Do you ever wonder if there are more furries out there somewhere?” Lightfoot observes, “I figure there must be.”

Panel 2: The fox continues, “This can’t be the only house around, and if there are other houses, there must be reasons for those houses, and one of those reasons is to create a safe haven for furries.”

Panel 3: The ‘roo asserts, “I think it’d be fun to find that there are some equine furries living in a house in France.” Lightfoot asks, “Why France?”

Panel 4: Sheila grins and replies, “Oat cuisine.” Lightfoot laughingly concedes, “Score one for the ‘roo.”
