265 — Dinner Plans

Panel 1: As in the last comic, we are in Nickey's bedroom; our perspective is that of looking at the floor near the bed, where there are shoes and other garments that appear to have been hurriedly removed and tossed aside. Sheila (speech bubble): "I hate to say this, luv, but I'm actually getting hungry." Nickey (speech bubble): "Well, we did miss breakfast. And lunch." Sheila (speech bubble): "Not to mention the exercise."

Panel 2: The same view. Nickey (speech bubble): "We could get some Chinese from across the street." Sheila (speech bubble): "That is a great advantage to this apartment." Nickey (speech bubble): "Of course, we'd have to get up and get dressed."

Panel 3: Still the same view, but there is silence in the room.

Panel 4: Once more, the same view. Nickey (speech bubble): "Dessert first?" Sheila (speech bubble): "And second helpings after?" Nickey (speech bubble): "Absolutely."
